CAREER OBJECTIVE

Interested in people management and interaction with others. I have been an AIML enthusiast since the end of 12th grade and throughout my continuing college education, with a strong and fast learning mindset. However, my mind shifted from the moment I joined MuLearn, where I connected with many peers and industry experts, fostering a passion for HR and people centric opportunities. I also love to take initiatives, whether it be stepping up to lead, starting something new, or connecting with people.
